Approval of MiFID/MiFIR Revisions Likely to Enact Sweeping Change

On January 16th, the European Parliament voted to adopt revisions to both MiFID and MiFIR, setting the stage for the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) to further define the technical standards. Among the changes is the much-anticipated establishment of EU-wide consolidated tapes. This will start with bonds before being implemented across equities and derivatives. There were also updates to transparency, Systematic Internaliser and Best Execution provisions amongst other revisions.

Regulators Increase Focus on Pre-Trade Controls in the EU

In response to concerns stemming from the May 2021 "Flash Crash," ESMA and the National Competent Authorities (NCAs) announced the launch of a Common Supervisory Action (CSA). This CSA is designed to assess the implementation of pre-trade controls to prevent erroneous orders and trades from being placed by Investment Firms that operate trading algorithms. https://www.thetradenews.com/european-regulators-launch-pre-trade-algorithmic-trading-supervisory-action-in-the-wake-of-flash-crash/
